IDENTITY OF BOY BURIED REVEALED BY ADDRESS IN CIGARETTE PAPERS

Authorities at Worthington, Ind., Say Youth Killed by Train Here Monday Afternoon Is Tira Stewart, Boy Strayed From Home and Widowed Mother.—Body Buried Will Be Exhumed and Shipped Home.

Tira Stewart of No. 518 Highland street, Worthington, Indiana, is the name and address of the 16-year-old white boy who was killed by an east-bound freight train at the L. & N. depot Monday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock.

The boy was buried Tuesday afternoon late by the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co., Fahey Undertaking Company of Bay St. Louis in charge of the body since it was picked up in two separate pieces and also conducting the burial.

Rev. R. E. Grubb, local rector of Christ Episcopal church, as a true man of God, giving the unfortunate youth a Christian burial.

How The Fatality Happened.

It appears the boy had spent the greater part of the forenoon in Bay St. Louis, carrying a blanket and a supply of clothing that had been given him by different people, supposedly at New Orleans from which city he had arrived either the night previously or the same morning. It is reported he had been seen about the city and had spoken to several people. From fragments gathered here and there every indication pointed to the fact he was originally from Indiana, but further than this no other definite deduction could definitely be made.

It appears the youth had boarded a freight train leaving Bay St. Louis. It was while climbing to the top of the box car the neck of the waist pump opposite the front scaffold store building unawares either struck him or the heavy bundle he carried, throwing him below to the tracks where the rolling car wheels decapitated his head and passed over his left shoulder and side of his chest.

Chastly Sight.

It was not long before a crowd had congregated. Here was the head tossed to one side and the body to the other. Through the chest part of lung and other organs of that section the body had been forced through the opening of the injured parts.

Justice of the Peace Frank Gutierrez at once impaneled a jury and an inquest followed, with the verdict that the deceased had met his death in accordance with the foregoing facts.

The remains were officially turned over to the Fahey Undertaking Company of Bay St. Louis, the body was taken to the Fahey establishment and when the remains reposed the following day, within the mauve-colored casket, the features were placid and all the horror marks of death had been removed. Here rested the unknown youth, his identity silenced and shrouded in the mystery of death, some mother's boy, unknown, unwept.

Many people from away, mothers and fathers at a loss to know where some wandering or missing boy might be, viewed the remains, but none could identify. Mr. Mike Schroeder, of New Orleans, whose young son is missing the past nine weeks, reached here early Tuesday morning to find the body was not that of his missing boy. Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder have only a young daughter and young son, and the latter disappeared one night after an informal entertainment at home. Dr. H. Holmes' department store at New Orleans.

From Brookhaven, Miss.

Then Mr. and Mrs. Grice, well-known residents of Brookhaven, Miss., who have a son missing, reached here Wednesday. From the undertaker's photograph they identified the picture as that of their son's features. Disintering and examining the body they were convinced this was not their missing boy.

Local and several people from away viewed the remains with a hope of identifying the boy as someone they knew missing, but without success.

How The Remains were Identified.

While the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Company took care of the body and saw that a formal burial be given the stranger in a strange land, the Fahey Undertaking Company was relentless in its quest to establish the boy's identity.

Every piece of clothing and linen were diligently searched for some clue, until late Wednesday evening Mr. Fahey ran through a book of cigarette papers belonging to the boy. There he read the name of Tira Stewart, No. 518 Highland street, Worthington, Indiana.

He wired the chief of police of that city and later a long distance

EDUCATION WEEK IS OBSERVED

At Sellers School—Home Economics and Ladies' Evening Class Actively Engaged.

Education Week was observed at Sellers school this week. An interesting program was given in chapel Armistice Day.

A new ironing board, new patterns, and a baby's layette have been added to the Home Economics Department. The Ladies' Evening Class met Friday for the first time. Everyone reported an interesting meeting. The Home Economics girls will begin working on the framing of pictures and the gesso finishings soon.

The Agriculture boys have almost completed the one-half-acre plot which they are clearing to make a permanent pasture. This is to be sowed in Lespedeza, carpet grass, clover, and white clover.

Clubs known as "Samuel Johnson Literary Society" and the "Jeffersonians" are being organized by Miss Edith Haffey. The clubs which are formed on a competitive basis consist of members of the High School English class and will meet every two weeks on Friday afternoon. A picnic will be given by the losing side to the Society scoring the most points.

The Ninth English pupils have almost completed the required work in Ward's Sentence and Theme for this term. With the passing of school days pupils are improving in English and find the subject more interesting. All are eagerly looking forward to the study of Literature.

The Fifth and Sixth grades have added a new English poster to their room. It emphasizes the use of "gone" and "went" by showing Mr. Gone in a car with his helpers, has, had, and had. Miss Went riding alone without any helpers.

The Sixth grade is preparing a debate on: "Resolved, that country children have more fun than city children." Each side is working hard to win.

The boys of the basketball teams have been practicing daily, for two weeks, in an effort to present a lineup strong enough to compare with last season's "Five" which lost but few games and finished the season as runners-up to Biloxi, Regional Champions. The outlook does not seem any too bright. Walter Shaw, Oreas Ladner, Lugie Neaise, Eron Ladner, Grady Ladner, and Ralph Sancier and among those out for daily practice. Oris Ladner, Carl Cuevas and Herman Sancier will perhaps be lost to the squad.

Oreas Ladner, a favorite forward, has started back to playing basketball, after having to stop on account of an appendicitis operation. Every body is glad to have him on the team again. Players on the Third team basketball will welcome the Dedeaux boys on Friday, November thirteenth.

All praise to the Ladies' Auxiliary. May their efforts be most successful.

telephone message put both men in direct telephone conversation, establishing the identity of the boy beyond doubt.

The chief said young Stewart's father died about six weeks ago and the boy, with another companion, left for the South—started out to see the world. The mother, the chief said, did not know of the whereabouts of the boy, and was frantic with grief. Mr. Fahey said another message would be forthcoming and that it was the desire of the family to have the remains of the boy shipped back home.

Body of Man Recently Found Drowned in Bay St. Louis Identified

The body of a middle-aged, well-dressed man found floating in the waters of the bay north of the auto bridge, and buried locally as unknown, during the early part of September, was recently identified.

His name was Edwin Ernest Carmichael, of 3113 Canal Street, New Orleans, aged 53 years, native of Culpeper, Va.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Allen, of 2032 Belmont Road, Washington, D. C., who approved of the man's identity and took over the local burial place with proper attention following. It appears to the best knowledge obtainable, the man had just wandered from his place at New Orleans, and might have accidentally met with his tragic end. Mississippi Annual Conference at Columbia November 19—Leaves Tuesday Night.

Rev. C. C. Clark, pastor, Main Street Methodist Church, will leave on next Tuesday night for Columbia, where he will attend the Mississippi Annual Conference, representing Bay St. Louis, part of the Seashore District.

Conference will convene on the 19 and continue through the week until Sunday with a definite program.

This will complete Rev. Clark's third year as pastor of the Bay St. Louis church and how well and successfully he has accomplished his work is best known to the community. And so well has entered upon an extensive program that the hope is generally expressed by the community, regardless of creed, that he will be reappointed to return to Bay St. Louis.

Mr. Clark and members of his church have planned a new Sunday School building and other improvements to the church property and while a fund has been started for that purpose a more propitious time, the betterment of conditions, is awaited.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Clark have endeavored themselves to all who know them and the community in general, engaged in general church and community work and actively participating in every endeavor that means for the betterment of this section.

We feel confident however, he will, unless some unforeseen circumstance will preclude his return.

LOCAL LEGION POST OBSERVES ARMISTICE WITH MARKED EFFECT

Parade, With Boy Scouts Is Colorful—Municipal Band Supplies Music—Exercise at Bay High School—Clayton Rand of Gulfport Classical and Patriotic Speaker.

The Clement R. Bontemps Post, No. 139 of the American Legion observed Armistice Day, Wednesday, November 11, with a suitable program opening at 10 o'clock with a parade in which the Legion Post, the Boy Scouts Troop and Municipal Band participated. The program was at the High school auditorium where the principal speaker was Clayton Rand of Gulfport, although ill acquainted himself in his usual masterly manner. In the afternoon a football game at St. Stanislaus College stadium, and the final event of the day was a dance at the Woodmen of the World Hall. The complete program of the day follows:

10 a. m.—Parade, Municipal Band, Boy Scout Troop No. 208, American Legion Post No. 139.

10:45 a. m.—Services at high school auditorium; presentation of colors by Chaplain, S. L. Engman; America, by school children and public; introductory address by Commander Laurent Dickson; song by Miss Edith Nye Griffith, pupil of school, accompanied by Mrs. James Sylvester, speaker of the day, Clayton Rand; music by Municipal Band; Reading by Miss Marion Ingram, pupil of school; retirement of colors; Star Spangled Banner.

2:30 p. m.—Football game at St. Stanislaus College, Bay St. Louis High vs. Gulfport High, second team.

8:30 p. m.—Dance, W. O. W. Hall. The football game was a joint benefit for the Parent Teacher Association Milk Fund.

The parade was one of the most colorful and inspiring turnouts yet noted on our streets. The Legionnaires number was depleted somewhat for the reason many attended a funeral in Waveland at the time, but the Boy Scouts seemed to have turned out in full number and made a fine showing.

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Band was quite an attraction and added to the auspiciousness of the occasion. The parade was led by Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., and Legion Post Commander Laurent Dickson marching on foot. Friends from Gulfport augmented the number and added to the turnout.

The thirteenth anniversary of the signing of the armistice was well observed in Bay St. Louis and Hancock county and let it be said to the everlasting credit of the membership of the local post. Men who are banded together in patriotic spirit and who will keep alive the principles for which they fought and the traditions which they represent. Hancock county is very proud of its Legion Post.

Commander Dickson's Address.—Commander Laurent Dickson delivered a most excellent opening address on the occasion of the exercises, and The Echo will publish same next week, lack of space precluding its publication this week.

F. A. WRIGHT ROTARY SPEAKER

Local Resident Places Blame Of War to Imperialism—Endorses League of Nations.

Impressing his hearers with the fact that it was the evils of imperialism that brought on the world war, and that a league of nations, with a view of establishing friendly relations, would in future avoid further warfare, Hon. Fred A. Wright, of Bay St. Louis, as principal speaker of Armistice Day before the Rotary Club Wednesday delivered this message in the course of a masterly address.

He said the greed of power, born of imperialism, was responsible for the disaster and subsequent development that brought on the war. He favored a league of nations, in order that the weaker nations might be protected and their rights respected. He said such an amalgamation of organized power would stand in good stead, would serve for the lasting establishment of peace.

Clayton Rand, of Gulfport, private guest of the president of the club was called upon and delivered a few remarks that were received with general acclaim.

Rotary had several visiting guests Wednesday and since it was Armistice Day and with so splendid a program as featured by Judge Wright, the meeting was one of unusual interest and importance. And so does the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, representative, alert and alive, keeps abreast with time and things and takes its part in all that is part and parcel of the things that make for integral part of our every day life and very part of our doing.

Rotary is world-wide. Its part in life is universal. Its position in the scheme of peace is well known and its work goes on unhampered and unimpairing. What an outstanding factor is Rotary Club.

AID ASKED TO HELP ORPHANS

Orphanage at Natchez, Maintained. Since 1847, Regardless of Creed, Seeks Funds.

During this time of need we often see able bodied men tramping about the country in search of work. If such is the desperate condition of men who are well able to take care of themselves, how much more must be the poverty of helpless children who cannot support themselves and who depend totally upon the charity of the public for the mere essentials of life.

The Catholic church since 1847 has maintained two orphanages at Natchez, Miss. in order to help the poor orphan children. Children of all creeds have been accepted and cared for by these orphanages, this fact is shown in the present enrollment of the orphanages, because out of 144 children 52 are non-Catholic.

The cost of maintaining these orphanages for year 1930 amounted to $17,064.03. This means an average cost of $118.50 per child, for the year, or a cost of $32.15 per day for a child. Hence for less than $10.00 per month the orphanages supply—

Good, wholesome food in ample quantities, clothing, reasonable repair to buildings, necessary incidentals, such as medicine, school supplies, etc.

We do not know of any charitable institution in Mississippi that is operated even near as economically as these institutions.

More than this: A report of the Adams county health officer which was issued during the course of 1929 shows that these institutions have an enviable record for health. The children are very happy, and are well trained as regards conduct, manners and schooling.

These orphanages are supported by the charity of the public. Hence during the week beginning November 22nd, a committee of men appointed by the Pastor, Father A. J. Gmelch will make a canvass of the homes and business houses in Bay St. Louis in order to solicit donations for these orphanages. Those who are interested may obtain much information by listening to Station W. C. C. M. at Gulfport on Monday, November 15th and Sunday, November 22nd, from 5 to 6 P. M. This broadcast will be devoted to the cause of the orphanages at Natchez.

BOOTHBY TO SPEAK NOV. 20TH.

Ralph Boothby, Metairie Park Country Day School Will Speak on Child Work and Culture

The alert, thinking public of Bay St. Louis can ill afford to miss the appearance of Ralph Boothby, at the Central H. S., November 20, at 8 P. M. Mr. Boothby is headmaster of "The Metairie Park Country Day School," and loves and knows children. Believing in the individual personality of the child, his aims and interests are to point each one towards its own particular talent, teaching life from the study of life itself and not from things some one else has written and so getting results beyond expectation.

Mr. Boothby is a Harvard man. His dark eyes seem full of understanding—he seems to be a teacher in a true sense in what he teaches interestingly.

The public schools of today are more and more enthusiastic over learning according to his methods, and it is greatly to be hoped that a better conception of living and of culture will be developed as we listen and heed child work as exemplified by Ralph Boothby. The P. T. A. invites the public to be its guest on this occasion and feels sure much interest will accrue from his experience in advancement and growth of the child. It is through the untiring efforts of the association's president that this wonderful treat is offered to Bay St. Louis and the best way of showing appreciation by the parents would be for all mothers and fathers to hear this splendid teacher.

AS TO PAYING TAXES.

A message Thursday morning from the Attorney General to City Attorney Robt. L. Genin says the new statute making the payment of taxes in installment, will apply both to the municipality of Bay St. Louis and Waveland but will not include where regular taxes are collectible February 1 to pay off special bond indebtedness.

MRS. MARY CAPPS BURIED.

Mrs. Mary Capps, wife of A. A. Capps, died at Jackson Thursday and was interred in the Flora Cemetery, the Rev. L. M. Sharp and Dr. W. A. McComb officiating. The home of Mrs. Capps was in Pass Christian but she had been at Jackson for the past three months. She is survived by her husband, who was formerly L. & N. rate clerk at Gulfport, but who is now developing a peach orchard at Pineville. Two sons, Ross Capps of Jackson, Tenn., and Rudolph Capps of Pass Christian, also survive.

Xavier University football squad from Cincinnati was encamped at the Hotel Weston here Thursday in preparation for the night game Friday with Loyola of the South at New Orleans today—Friday. Joe Meyer, head coach, and Tim Moynihan, chief assistant, put the Musketeers squad through a light signal drill at St. Stanislaus College field Thursday afternoon.

Those who watched the Musketeers in practice saw that the Ohio team retained the good form which gained a 7 to 7 tie with the University at Dayton in the game at Cincinnati last Saturday. Capt. Bernie Wilhelm, Xavier right end, is slated to continue play at the wing post although he has only recently moved from tackle.

Starting line-up of the Musketeers is likely to be: Paul Hughes, T. E. Louis Moellering, I. T. Jack Hosty, E. Maurice Farrell, C. Carl Sprengard, R. E. Bernie Phelan, R. T. Wilhelm, R. E. Tommy Brannen, J. B. Paul Beckwith, I. H. Kenney Jordan, R. H. and Hal Pennington, T. B.

Of this array Farrell, Brannen, Jordan and Pennington are sophomores. As has been Coach Meyer's problem for many years, the Musketeers are not strongly fortified with seasoned material.

There is great confidence in the Xavier camp that the Musketeers will be able to avenge the one-sided defeat Loyola scored at Cincinnati last year in a night game. A handful of rooters will cheer on the Musketeers.

Coach Meyer assembled his squad for a skull drill at the hotel here in which the Musketeer strategy was reviewed. It is expected that Xavier will flash a sensational open style of play in the bid to beat Loyola.

The Musketeer party will leave for New Orleans this Friday afternoon and will make their headquarters at the Hotel Jung.

Some twenty-nine members of the party arrived in Bay St. Louis on the Pan-American Thursday morning, and were met by a number of residents with automobiles, under auspices of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, including representatives from St. Stanislaus College, with whose Senior team the squad will play and practice for the two night sojourn and prior to the game Friday night with Loyola at New Orleans.

George E. Winter, of Cincinnati, accompanying the team, was fulsome in his praise of Bay St. Louis and of the cordial greeting which met the arriving guests as they stepped out from the L. & N. train direct into Cincinnati. "You have a beautiful and most interesting city here," he said to a reporter of The Echo. "The flood of sunshine and spirit of the people is a combination to be envied with. We are delighted to be here. It is truly a high spot in our trip from home and we will ever cherish the memory of our visit to Bay St. Louis and the beautiful golf course now and after we will have returned here. The Hotel Weston is not only modern and its service splendid, but the cuisine is excellent and the staff are delighted with their work and every phase of their visit and from every viewpoint. We hope to return to Bay St. Louis again."

Mrs. Abigail Bourgeois, hostess of the dining room, has the place beautifully decorated with red and blue colors of the squad, predominating.

Manager Waldo Utts, too, has nothing undone that will contribute to the pleasure and comfort of the team.

Nowhere in the world has public education received the impetus which has been given it by the United States. Practically every state and school district has spent money for education liberally, and sometimes recklessly, for the purpose of developing an educational citizenship. Yet, very often, we encounter signs which raise the question whether or not our people are being educated.

In Chicago the other day a journalist questioned two hundred citizens from various walks of life and gave them a test by asking them to identify one hundred and twenty-five names of people who have been much in the public eye. Only two movie actors were identified by all; less than half knew who Wilhelm von Hohenhausen, Arthur Brisbane, and Charles Evans Hughes were. The famous German scientist Einstein was identified by some as a violinist, by others as film directors, and the famous surgeons, Mayo Brothers, were characterized as circus owners or performers, gangsters, or comedians.

Such a cross section test of intelligence does not indicate any great average knowledge or information upon the part of our people. Yet, under the democratic ideas of government, these people have political power and are authorized to control the destiny of the nation. There is a great work yet for educators to accomplish. Learning must be better adapted to the actual needs of life rather than to a theoretical training of the mind. That is vital for the future welfare of democracy.

PRISONERS PLANT TREES.

IN Wisconsin a tract of 10,000 acres of land was taken over by the State for taxes. In order to utilize it a camp was built and fifty convicts put to work planting trees. It is estimated that it will take five years to reforest the entire area.

This is an excellent plan, which will make a profit for the State, and at the same time relieve the congestion of prisoners at the State Penitentiary. Such work is better on the morale of the convicts than confinement in a big stone prison.

Other states should follow this example, where practical for the reforestation of cut over lands is work which is practically only within the province of government.

There are any number of citizen in this republic who now start their remarks by saying, "once upon a time, I had a job."

HOW THANKFUL ARE YOU?

"MANY of our neighbors are in need from causes beyond their control," says President Hoover, in his proclamation, proclaiming Thursday, November 26th, as Thanksgiving Day. The President urges those who are more fortunate to share their security with these victims of an economic debacle in order that they, too, may have full cause to render gratitude and thanks to a gracious Heavenly Father.

There are, undoubtedly, in Hancock County some citizens suffering from hardships and deprivations in the midst of others who are enjoying life to its fullest extent. Surely, the fortunate ones should remember the others less fortunate and give expression to their gratitude by concrete acts of thoughtful kindness, and, where necessary, gentle generosity.

It is one thing for a people to return thanks to the Almighty at the altars of His churches or in the sanctity of their homes and another to translate these emotions of gratitude into acts which will bless the lives of others. Today, Hancock county has many causes for thanksgiving but, at the same time, there exists individual cases to the contrary. These should not be compelled to look upon a people upon their knees in thanks for blessings without having real evidence that the spirit behind their words is one that implies the doing of good deeds.

In truth, Thanksgiving Day, 1931, affords us a special opportunity to follow the example of the good Samaritan.

RAILROADS IMPORTANT.

THE plight of the railroads of the United States interests almost every citizen of this entire nation. Excepting only the basic industry of farming, the railroads employ the largest number of workmen of any industry in the country, estimated to aggregate 1,525,481 employees, whose wages support about 6,000,000 people. In 1930, for example, the steam railroads of the country paid out $2,614,732,742 for labor, including salaries.

That the responsible executives of the railroads in the past two decades signally failed to develop the facilities of their roads to meet the competition of the automobiles does not remedy a situation that affects many people. As an idea of the importance of the carriers, one should recall that their taxes exceed $300,000,000 each year, that their purchase of equipment and material is $1,500,000,000 annually; that they own 57,807 locomotives, 53,022 passenger cars and 2,307,301 freight cars.

This immense business of transportation can be gauged by the 1930 figures showing 692,082,000 passengers carried an average trip of forty miles and 2,123,811,000 tons of freight hauled for an average of more than 180 miles.

The reproduction cost of the 377 steam railway lines has been estimated at around $27,000,000,000, with a present value, estimated, of about $22,000,000,000. They have 863,935 stockholders and a capitalization of $20,168,783,000.

FIFTEEN OUT OF THE HUNDRED.

THE number of automobile accidents continues to increase over the country causing a terrible toll in human life and suffering. Highway officials in various states are experimenting with various proposals and devices to make highway traveling safer. So far the plan of requiring driver's licenses with the penalty of revoking these licenses for cause seems to be the best suggested.

A Connecticut official, after careful study, says that 85 out of every 100 drivers obey highway regulations and keep out of trouble and that all the injuries and accidents are caused by the other 15. Concerning the guilty 15 Commissioner Stockle says 2 are criminals, 1 is mentally deficient, 2 are just too stupid to respond to the necessities of traffic, while the other 10 are normal human beings with a highway complex that causes them to act foolishly and recklessly.

The license system aims at the gradual elimination of these drivers who are unfit to be trusted. In Massachusetts an analysis of a hundred fatal accidents revealed the fact that nearly half of the drivers had been already involved in some traffic violation. These drivers should have been stopped before they killed somebody.

PROTECT CHILDREN.

ONE of the hazards of travel on a busy highway comes from automobiles going to the left side of the road, either when caused by a desire to turn in at some farm or road or in trying to pass another vehicle moving in the same direction.

Once or twice recently we have noticed where accidents occurred when mail carriers had temporarily stopped their cars on the left of the road to deposit mail in a rural mail box situated on that side. In an effort to avoid this danger the Post Office Department ruled that rural mail boxes should be placed on the carrier's right hand side to avoid this danger in pulling over to the left.

There would seem to be very little objection to this at first glance but it was not long before protests began to come to the Post Office Department. Parents, especially mothers, registered their objection to a plan which involved sending the children across the traveled highway every time they went for the mail. As far as we are concerned, we think the children are entitled to this protection. Grown up men are better able to protect themselves than are the children.

A man who will ride 75 miles to throw a hook in a pond will not cross the street to see a sick friend without a protest against losing time.

Bay St. Louis citizens should buy what they can from our merchants. Dollars spent away from home seldom get back into local circulation.

Well, we see where some brilliant industrial leader declared last week that prosperity is just around the corner. Thanks, we are not losing any ground on it, so far. Let's hope these predicting men hold out.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO, ILL., November 10.—A host of marches before the eyes of the Echo's readers. Kilted clads, veterans parade in observance of the day on which the greatest of wars ended. Haven't they changed somewhat, those brave young men whose departure caused such mixed emotions? Yes, some of those heads were pure blinding, or black or brown as they were damped by the tears of mothers who feared their sons might be leaving forever. Now I detect streaks of gray beneath the overseas caps. And me thinks I see one or two from whose eyes a light might reflect with quite a glare. Then surely something has happened to those old uniforms. They fit even worse than they did a year ago! Those blouses have shrunk, of that there can be no doubt. No one will contend that the veterans have inflated, especially during these days of general deflation.

Well, here's a happy young man who will be deprived of an alibi as the number of his married years grows larger. Carl Fehrenbach of New Orleans whose marriage to Miss Nelywyn Mane Bourgeois of Waveland was announced last week, is one chap who cannot get away from the excuse that he forgot the day of his wedding anniversary. Each year as the date nears he will see uniforms coming out of moth-balled closets, tin hats being given another coat of paint and flags being made ready for the unfurling. Old men with rosy gleams in their eyes will begin humming something about a shy old gal from Armiters, and Mr. Fehrenbach will find himself becoming flower and candy conscious. Happy Mrs. Fehrenbach is thus assured that the wedding anniversary will never be forgotten.

Reading of the action taken by the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce to secure a portion of the new highway fund, I naturally have a vision of a fine road, built by the ingenuity of American engineers and paid by the productiveness of American industry. I see a beautiful landscape through which Mississippi folks motor and bracing November winds bring to my nostrils the smoky aroma of the autumn air.

Then I conjure up another wind their way over badly-rutted French roads. A cold dismal rain falls on the rather disconsolate looking soldiers in the trucks who crack sour jokes at the expense of "Sunny France." Black boys in olive drab have filled the holes in the roads with crushed rock that is found in piles on the right of way. The colored soldiers of the labor battalions welcome the approach of the trucks, for it gives them an opportunity to rest and wave at their white companions. The trucks pass over the road. The loose rocks are all "squidged" out of the holes. The black boys have their work to do all over again. From the opposite direction comes a vehicle for which those roads were constructed. It's a two wheeled cart pulled by a big black horse. An old fellow in a dull gray suit, ending in wrap leggings and wooden shoes, shouts "allez!" at the faithful horse. I'll go no further. Every one of my veteran readers knows that picture.

Miss Norma Gex now of "Ole Miss" spent last week end visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gex so the Echo told. What a rare privilege it is to be able to visit parents and enjoy home companionship almost any day you choose! Overseas men lixed through months when their only contacts with loved ones was by means of letters mailed in an army postoffice. After being censored these missives were often forwarded with reasonable dispatch. How much it would have meant in those days to have had a face to face visit with parents and to have enjoyed just one meal at the family board!

On the St. Stanislaus gridiron a battle raged last week with Tiny Rock eleven emerging victorious over the local aggregation. How different was that encounter from the battles to death waged by armies at war! There was competition in Friday's game, 'tis true, and the desire to win animated the young men on the field. But not a single one of those fine husky men would deliberately have injured an opponent. One of the finest things taught by interscholastic sports is giving the other fellow a square deal. But the object of war is the death of your adversary. Since men can do no wrong to his brother than take his life. It's not surprising that "atrocities" are committed during the war. Clean-sports on the other hand breed good-fellowship and friendship among the members of the contending teams.

Among the members of St. Margaret's Daughters which last week met and mapped out its winter program there were some who vividly recalled the meetings of thirteen, fourteen, and fifteen years ago. Then they would gather and weep over the wool and cotton from which they knitted sweaters prepared bandages for the sons and brothers of the women of the nation. Long and long

September 18 the New York Times observed its eightieth anniversary.

In 1851, when the Times was founded, eighteen printers could set an issue and only four pressmen were needed to print it. Today the mechanical department of the paper has 1,800 employees. The first Times presses turned out not more than 2,000 four page papers an hour. Now the Times pressroom has a capacity of 554,000 thirty-two page rapers an hour.

Pages in the daily edition of the Times have increased in number from four to fifty since 1851, with Sunday editions of 216 pages. Started on an investment of $69,000, the paper is now capitalized at $21,000,000.

Henry J. Raymond and George Jones established the Times. Adolph S. Ochs, present publisher, took over control in 1896.

Declaring that the strategic use of newspaper advertising has proved to be one of the most effective means for developing business under the present difficult conditions, W. K. Kellogg, chairman of the Board of the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, leading manufacturers of cereal food, said yesterday that his company expects to end the year in the strongest position in its history.

"This year has demonstrated some of the unusual virtues of newspaper advertising," said Mr. Kellogg. "We announced last fall our plans for a heavy advertising expenditure this year in which we planned to use newspapers somewhat as shock troops to concentrate our fire when and where needed. The mobility of this form of advertising has enabled us to meet the varying problems of unsettled conditions to excellent advantage. Right now we are planning two new heavy drives for this fall, using a stronger concentration of space on two of our products than we have never before used in newspapers."—Reed City (Mich.) Herald.

Government expenditures are double the revenue in fiscal year.

Japan and Russia watch each other's moves in Manchuria.

Washington fears high British tariffs will cause us trade losses.

Income of 53 railroads down 43 per cent in September.

Some were the days of those meetings and the others through which lived until November 11th when church bells pealed and whistles shrieked the "Big News." Joyfully were the knitting needles of Bay St. Louis' patriotic women laid aside. Forever, they had been led to believe. Now these brave-women gather in another crisis for the appeals of hungry and shivering men, women and children find response in their noble hearts. Now they realize that so long as the world lasts, women will be called upon in times of stress to employ their handicraft in the interests of the needy.

INDIGESTION

"My work is confining, and often I eat hurriedly, causing me to have indigestion. Gas will form and I will smother and have pains in my chest. I had to be careful what I ate, but after someone had recommended Black-Draught and I found a small pinch after meals was so helpful, I soon was eating anything I wanted."

"Now when I feel the least smothering or uncomfortable bloating, I take a pinch of Black-Draught and get relief."

PASSING AWAY OF MRS. THOMAS L. TRAWICK, AT N. O.

Former well-known and Beloved Resident of This City, Passes On After Long Illness.

Mrs. Lou Trawick, wife of Prof. T. L. Trawick, former residents of this city, passed away at her home in New Orleans Friday, after an illness of seven months. The remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis Saturday morning, accompanied by the pastor, relatives and a number of friends. Funeral ceremonies conducted at the family burial plot in Cedar Rest Cemetery, with Rev. C. C. Clark of the Main Street Methodist church present.

The remains arrived on train reaching Bay St. Louis 10-30 o'clock and from the railroad depot were conveyed to the last resting place. Many floral offerings marked the last resting place, among them were many special designs of size and beauty.

Mrs. Trawick is survived by three daughters, Alice, Helen, Suzanne and two sons, Andrew and Tom. Mr. Trawick was former superintendent of Day St. Louis city schools until some years ago he was appointed a member of the faculty of N. O. Boys' High School, which trust and honor he still holds.

A number of Bay St. Louis friends met the funeral cortege and were present at the cemetery adding by their presence their sympathy to the bereaved family. In addition to the immediate family, Mrs. Trawick is survived by one sister, of Hattiesburg, Miss., and one brother.

The deceased was the embodiment of all the womanly virtues that made her the devoted wife, a loving mother and a friend to the true test of the term. Hers was a life of devotion to family, her duties, and yet she found ample time to become a part of the community in which she lived, always participating in the uplift of fellow beings and doing her part for the betterment of mankind.

Her demise has brought much sorrow wherever known. Her memory will always live with those who knew her best. None will ever forget this sweet and goodly woman. To the bereaved family the deepest sympathy is offered. To cherish her memory will indeed be a consolation and none will remember her but to praise her.

Mrs. Trawick, with her family, resided here many years, and was well known. She was a member of the Main Street Methodist church and ever took a most active part in all that pertained not only to the church but to every community endeavor calculated to assist and to promote for the betterment of both residents and place.

GULF COAST BUSINESS LEADER INDICTED ON TAX EVASION CHARGES

W. A. Cuevas at Gulfport Indicted by Federal Grand Jury At Biloxi—Young Son Gives Explanation While Father Is Ill at New Orleans.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 9.—W. A. Cuevas, well-known Mississippi coast business man, has been indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of alleged income tax evasions, it was disclosed here today.

The indictment was returned in United States district court here last Thursday, and Cuevas was said to have intended going before United States Commissioner George Money at Biloxi today to surrender and make bail.

Commissioner Money was informed during the day by a son, however, that Cuevas had become indisposed while in New Orleans earlier in the day and his appearance before the Biloxi commissioner was deferred pending his recovery, according to reports received by officers here.

Heads Furniture Firm.
Cuevas is president of the Gulfport Furniture Company, with a branch store in Biloxi. His residence is maintained at Pass Christian. The government, through the internal revenue department, charges Cuevas with illegally withholding income taxes in the years 1925, 1926 and 1927, in an amount consisting of several thousands of dollars. The exact amount plus the penalties imposed has not been revealed by the government.

The indictment will be tried during a sitting of federal court in the Biloxi division.

Federal court began its second week of the present term here today with Judge W. L. Grubb of Alabama presiding in the temporary absence of Federal Judge Edwin R. Holmes.

Walter Cuevas at Gulfport Tuesday to a Herald reporter said that his father had suffered a heart attack while in New Orleans but was resting well that day, and probably would return by the end of the week to appear before Commissioner Geo. P. Money at Biloxi.

Mr. Cuevas stated that the indictment involves the same case for the same years in which Judge Holmes granted an injunction in 1929 restraining the collection of taxes for those years on the basis of alleged prejudice and bias of a government agent. The injunction named James Devine, the international revenue agent, who investigated the case all of which is of record in the United States District Court in Mississippi, he said.

Waveland, Miss.

WAVELAND AFTER BOARD OF SUPERVISORS FOR AD VALOREM MONIES.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen of the Town of Waveland at their last regular meeting:

Whereas, the supreme court has decided in the case of the Town of Purvis vs. Lamar county, that one-half the ad valorem taxes levied for the payment of loan warrants, or one-half of the taxes collected by the county within the town to pay said loan warrants should be paid and is due the town, and it is the general understanding that Hancock county has levied taxes to pay loan warrants and has borrowed money and levied and collected the tax as in the case decided by the supreme court.

He it further resolved that the town attorney and the secretary be and they are hereby authorized and directed to file a claim with the Board of Supervisors of Hancock county to collect the said taxes due them under said decision of the supreme court.

WAVELAND BEACH AND THE BUS LINE.

It certainly looks good to see the through bus from Mobile to New Orleans back on the Waveland beach front again, serving the public living on the beach and nearby side streets rather than running through the wilds of cut-over lands.

The bus, if it has come to stay, and which should be made its business the same as other public carriers, should travel a route where it may serve the greatest number of people, to say nothing of the animation it lends to the beach drive way and the most essential part of Waveland over a greater portion of territory.

The bus is a welcome sight along the beach front, of course, and by all means, with all reasonable restrictions and all possible precautions for safety to limb and life. Every factor of progress and improvement is a factor for the further development of Waveland.

BAV JUVENILE BAND OVER GULFPORT STATION.

Last Sunday it was our good fortune to tune in on the Gulfport Station, W. G. C. M. while the Juvenile Band of Bay St. Louis under the direction of Miss Louise Armstrong and Mrs. L. S. Elliott, rendered their excellent program.

These youngsters deserve a great deal of credit, and should be encouraged to continue their study of music. By request Mrs. L. S. Elliott sang "Dawning" and her rich and rounded tones came over the air in a very pleasing and gratifying manner. Bay St. Louis should feel proud of their juvenile band. Quite a number of Waveland people listened in and enjoyed every moment. We wish to thank the band for dedicating one of their number to Mrs. V. E. Weber.

WAVELAND RESIDENT IS DEAD

William H. Ruhr, Father of
Waveland, Passes to World
Beyond—Had Envious
Record—Paid Masonic
Honors at Funeral.

Died on Nov. 9, at 11:30 P. M., William H. Ruhr, age 79, a native of Saxony, Prussia, Germany and a resident of Waveland for past 60 years.

Mr. Ruhr when 20 years of age came to the Coast and decided to make his home and seek his livelihood among the people here.

By hard work and strict attention to duty, he rapidly established himself and gained the confidence of the people.

He served faithfully as Town Marshal, Tax Collector and Street Commissioner for a number of years and Alderman of the first ward and secretary of the Board for past twenty years.

With the passing of Mr. Ruhr, Waveland suffered a distinct loss, and as a mark of respect the School Board ordered all classes dismissed and the flag displayed at half-mast.

Mr. Ruhr is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Jules Favre, three sons, August, William and Edward, and eleven grand children, all residents of Waveland.

Mr. Ruhr was a member of the Bay St. Louis Masonic Lodge for many years, in fact if not one of the oldest he was the oldest. Accordingly, his funeral, which took place Wednesday morning from his late residence in Nicholson Avenue, was conducted under Masonic auspices, with interment at Cedar Rest Cemetery, Bay St. Louis, preceded to the grave by his wife some two or three years since.

Mr. Ruhr was a pioneer of Waveland. He saw the place grow from practically nothing to the thriving community town that it is today. He was indeed a benefactor, ever willing and doing and his efforts were ever identified with the best interest of Waveland and its people.

He served the town and its people at various times and in various capacities over a long period of many years, and his passing away is not only losing a useful citizen and a faithful friend, but one whose efforts for the public weal will be missed. William H. Ruhr has certainly left his impress on the town of Waveland. None will ever speak of him but to remember him with love and gratitude.

SPORTS AT STANISLAUS

Last Sunday the Rock-A-Chaws, despite steady, hard work, came out on the short end of a 12-7 score against Commy High of New Orleans.

For some reason the Red-Back couldn't get going in the first quarter and in the third quarter something seemed to go wrong again. Commy seemed to have gotten the breaks. The game was not spectacular, the only thrill coming when Linam raced 80 yards in the last two minutes, and thence for a touchdown.

Nevertheless, Bro. Peter voiced his satisfaction with the team for their loyal spirit and hard fighting, and we're sure that everyone is still behind the Rocks as much as ever.

Herman Andrade, our game little end, suffered a severe dislocation of his shoulder in the final minutes of play. We are glad that it proved to be nothing more serious, and we sincerely hope that he gets in one more game before the season ends.

JUNIOR YARD SPORTS.

Last Thursday the Junior Team went over to Kiln and defeated a much larger but in-experienced team 41-0. The Juniors were out weighed 10 lbs. to the man but what beef Kiln had the Juniors made up in swiftness. The Juniors scored in every quarter. They made 26 first downs to Kiln's 3. Kiln's three first downs coming by forward passes. Gullotta broke loose another long run coming as a result of a reverse play which netted him 75 yards and a touchdown. All Juniors had a chance to play. Quinn, Giamalloni, Fagan and J. Sandoz starting in backfield while "Tiny" Pissone, Stakelum, T. Sandoz and Carly playing great ball on the line.

Saturday the Picayune Lumberjacks will be here to take on the Stanislaus Rockchaws. Believe us, these boys have a team. They concede defeat when the last whistle blows and not before. Gullpot had a time holding them down to a 6-6 game; Pascagoula was forced to acknowledge defeat; G. C. M. A. with Gorman flinging them far and near garnered a victory 33 to 0; while Gogulussa, who tied with Werren, Easton last week, was beaten by Picayune 14-7.

We know very little about their team, except from the above report that they must be good and will give an account of themselves no matter what team handles them. The Rock-A-Chaws have been imitating Loyola this year, going scores on the first teams played a decided fall in the third game; picking up against Springhill and then a slow decline against Purvis and Ellisville ending with a defeat against another N. O. Prep School—Commy High.

Be we think the Rockchaws are going to come back and give us a good fight against Picayune, if it be nothing else, but a preparation for the Laurel game a week later.

ST. STANISLAUS DAY SCHOOL RIDES ROUGHSHOD OVER TINY ROCKS 25-0.

Bernard Ludovic's two galloping brothers, C. Strong and Roy Strong led in by Captain Leon Pervin smothered the Tiny Rocks under four touchdowns and one extra point last Thursday afternoon at the stadium.

It was a crushing defeat for the Tiny Rocks as it was their first loss of the season to a team they had turned back in two previous encounters. A large crowd of spectators sat in a hot sun to watch the Wildcat eleven gathering momentum as it moved along, scored in the opening minutes of play and then completely outclassed its opponents in the last two periods. Captain Leon Pervin ran his team in such a wonderful manner that it would have taken a much heavier team to stop the boys from the Day School last Thursday.

He used the Strong boys for sweeping end runs that meant a good gain each time and he saved Ulysses Oliver for cutting line backs. Little Kingston playing center smeared the Tiny Rock's plays time after time. The ball never reached the Wildcat's 20 yard line showing that the victors far outplayed their victims. Using every known method of offense, the Day School boys piled up eleven first downs and 227 yards with the Tiny Rocks four first downs and 98 yards from scrimmage. The Tiny Rocks threatened once in the fourth period when Fred Sheehy intercepted a pass on his own 20 yard line and raced through the opposition's line. He was brought down on the Stanislaus Day School's 40 yard line. The Tiny Rocks failed when a fumble gave the Wildcat the ball. J. Maxwell, captain of the Tiny Rocks tried in vain to prevent the shutout.

Following the hard-driving, whirlwind fullback of the Day School accounted for three touchdowns one is hereby authorized and directed to change the Original assessment roll in effect and the Sheriff and Tax Collector of this County is hereby authorized and directed to change the Copy in his possession to conform with the provisions of this order. And the Sheriff and Tax Collector shall be properly credited with the reduction herein made.

Be it ordered by the Board that the Board adjourn until Friday morning, November 6th, A. D. 1931 at 9:00 o'clock A. M.

Friday morning, November 6th, A. D. 1931 at 9:00 o'clock A. M. Board met pursuant to adjournment, present as follows:

of them, on a dazzling 49 yard run in the first period. John Strong, brilliant halfback scored the other touchdown on a 20 yard dash.

Next Thursday the Tiny Rocks' larger brothers the "Undeclared" Pebbles will beat the Stanislaus Day School Wildcats in a tilt that will be for blood, because of the defeat handed to the Tiny Rocks.

BUILDING OF CUT-OFF ROAD TO NEW ORLEANS WAITS ON LOUISIANA

Mississippi Highway State Engineer Says Mississippi Is Ready, But Next Move Is Up to Louisiana—Nothing To Be Done Until Then.

By JOHN R. HUDSON,
Special Correspondent, New Orleans
Times-Picayune.

The next move in the construction of the "Cut Off Highway" connecting New Orleans more directly with the Mississippi Coast rests primarily with the Louisiana Highway Commission, and prospects for quick action by the Highway Commission of the neighboring state are slim, to say the least. C. A. Draper, state highway engineer of the Mississippi Highway Commission announced.

Mississippi stands pledged to construct the required 19-mile connecting link between Lake and Pearlport, on the state border, whenever the Louisiana authorities construct their nine-mile connecting link between the Rigolets and Pearlport, Draper said. But the Stansel Act, authorizing action by the Mississippi Commission, prohibits this state's department from taking action until Louisiana acts.

Four Streams Crossed.

"So far as we know, the Louisiana Highway Commission never has surveyed the proposed 'cut off,'" said Draper. "An engineering feat of considerable magnitude and involving an expenditure of lots of money confronts Louisiana on its side of the border line."

"The route goes through marsh lands and across at least four navigable streams that must be connected with drawbridges. Hancock county, Mississippi, has agreed to pay one-half of the cost of bridging Pearl river at Pearlport, and we stand pledged to surface the route but our hands are tied until Louisiana takes action."

The highway department is expecting word daily from the federal bureau of public roads, with its assurance that federal aid will be available to match the $5,000,000 funds recently authorized by the Mississippi Legislature for highway construction and paving.

When this assurance is received—an assurance required by the authorization act—the securities, representing the $5,000,000 could be advertised for sale—the highway department will make formal request upon the State Bond Commission for sale of whatever amount the commission figures they can use in their initial program.

Roads Ready for Paving

The commission has not revealed what projects it contemplates in its initial program, but there are more than 150 miles of federal aid roads ready for paving. These stretches, it was intimated, will receive prior consideration.

The highway department is experimenting with secondary paving materials for lesser traveled roads, but all of the main thoroughfares are eventually to be paved with concrete under present plans of the highway department.

The section recently surface treated on the Old Spanish Trail west of Bay St. Louis has a 10-mile stretch split up into 10 sections of that many kinds of secondary paving materials for observation of its wearing qualities. Other experiments are being scattered about the state.

Concrete surfacing for 20-foot wide roads, the width being constructed in Mississippi, costs approximately $17,000 a mile, while the secondary paving materials range in price from $4000 to $6000 a mile.

Best Time to Advertise Is When Business Is Needed Most

"My son," ran an editorial in the Bridgeport (Conn.) Post—"there's nothing on earth so mysteriously funny as an advertisement. The prime, first, last and all the time object of an advertisement is to draw custom. It is not, has not, and never will be designed for any other human purpose. So the merchant waits till the busy season comes and his store is so full of customers that he can't get his hat off, and then he rushes to his printer and goes in for advertising."

"When the dull season gets along and there is no trade and he wants to sell goods so bad he can't pay his rent, he stops his advertising. That is, some of these do, but occasionally a level-headed merchant does more of it and scoops in all the business, while his neighbors are making mortgages to pay the gas bill."

"There are times when you couldn't stop people from buying everything in the store if you planted a cannon behind the door, and that's the time the advertisement is sent out on its mission. It makes light work for the advertiser, for a chalk sign on the sidewalk could do all that was needed and have a half holiday six days in the week; but who wants to favor an advertisement? They are built to do hard work, and should be sent out in the dull days when a customer has to be knocked down with hard facts and kicked insensible with bankrupt reductions and dragged in with irresistible slaughter of prices before he will spend a cent."

"That's the aim and end of advertising, my son, and if you ever open a store don't try to get them to come when they are already sticking out of the windows, but give them your advertisement right between the eyes in the dull season and you will wax rich and own a fast horse and perhaps be able to smoke a good cigar once or twice a year."

"Write this down where you'll find it every day. The time to draw business is when you want business, and not when you have more business than you can attend to already."

CURRENT COMMENT

THIS LOOKS GOOD.

The newspapers publish facts that, taken together point clearly to a revival of business. A well known auto builder has raised his minimum wage one dollar per day, and taken on many workers who had been laid off. About sixty percent of eight hundred manufacturers questioned, report the prospects for the coming winter as ranging from fair to excellent. The Federal Reserve Board states that the amount of money in circulation is on the increase, and that hoarding is on the decline. Lack of work, a cold in the head, have to be put up with, but do not last forever. Hard times are on the horizon, and the snows of the approaching winter will carry vehicle and rider out of sight and out of mind.

SWEEP A VICTORY.

Great Britain has had an election, and it is difficult for a person on this side of the water to ascertain just what it means. One expert calls it a "sweep," another says that it is a victory for no party, and George Bernard Shaw remarks that England must now prepare for any sort of folly. One thing is certain. MacDonald, who put the general welfare ahead of party affiliation, has come again into his kingdom. American voters might see the candidates who serve their ballots, for a man of similar views.

AFTER DEAD MAN'S MONEY.

Before the flowers on Mr. Edison's grave are wilted, a contest over his will is announced. Joshua ordered the sun and moon to stand still, and they obeyed him. Mr. Edison could not do quite so much as that, but his command over the forces of Nature was unusual. Apparently, his words did not have equal weight with human beings, especially where money is concerned. Perhaps he knew how to invent machines that would talk, and pictures that would move, and still did not know what he wanted to do with his property. In any event he is not here to interpret his own purposes, and someone else will have to do that for him.

A ROSE BY ANOTHER NAME.

A manufacturer is about to market a synthetic rubber, made from salt, water and other inexpensive ingredients. Bootleggers have brought the word "synthetic" into bad repute. Legitimate business may be able to restore the term to its proper place of respectability in the dictionary, but if synthetic rubber turns out to be good rubber, the inference should not be drawn that synthetic gin also is good.

A SHAWL IS ALWAYS A SHAWL.

Capes occupy a prominent place in the latest Paris fashions. Paris has a good deal to say authoritatively on articles of women's wear, and may yet decree the return of the shawl. No one need shy at the shawl as a piece of cheap raiment. The old Paisley and Indian articles were costly enough to satisfy anyone intent on spending money. Limit cannot be placed on the possibilities of the shawl as a decorative garment, and it has the advantage of draping itself to the wearer, without the aid of the dressmaker's skill. A shawl can become a lap robe or table cover upon a moment's notice. From all standpoints, the shawl is capable of covering a great deal of ground. The present-day objection to it would be that it covers too much body.

CHRISTMAS MAIL AND EXTRA JOBS.

Almost two hundred thousand extra men will be given short period jobs to handle the heavy mail at the Christmas season. Grumbling donors who tax themselves for gifts distributed as a matter of policy, and disappointed recipients who get a green necktie when they hoped for a new car, will still have absorbed a little of the Yuletide spirit, if they will rejoice that somewhere along the line, the package at least contributed to the cheer of a bundleless person's Christmas Day.

NOT SO BAD AFTER ALL.

Three castaways who lived for six months on an otherwise uninhabited island in the Pacific, following a shipwreck, have been rescued and brought back to civilization. The first impulse of the reader is to rejoice at their deliverance. The second is to rejoice that there still exists a quiet place, fairly well provisioned by nature, where there is nothing worse than the mosquito to annoy. The average middle-aged man is inclined to tolerate a primitive instinct which, fostered by the cares of the day, causes him now and then to lay down the narrative of Robinson Crusoe with a sigh, and with the thought that Robinson was not so badly off after all.

THE ASSOCIATION IS BUT NATURAL.

The Russian Government is importing a new strain of cattle, with a view to improving the strain of its cattle. This is what might be expected. The word "bull" rises naturally in the mind, whenever the Soviet program or philosophy is mentioned.

HOME ORCHARDS FOR HEALTH, PLEASURE, AND FARM RESOURCE

Wide Variety of Fruits
Available and Productive
Orchard Suggested as Integral Part of Every Farm Home.

An abundance of fruits that can be so profitably produced on Mississippi soils as a means towards reducing farm expenses and of increasing farm health and pleasure is suggested as an important feature in the State's reconstructed farm program by J. C. Holton, Commissioner of Agriculture.

"In the old days when folks lived at home fruits of the greatest variety and excellence were produced on farms throughout Mississippi. We have gotten away from that, and now in too many instances the farm supply of these products best grown at home, is purchased from the storekeeper and produced in distant states."

"The history of our state and more especially our experience during the present year is abundant proof that this policy is unnecessary. Mississippi soils and climate are such that the production of a great variety of fruits is possible, and few are the farms that with proper tillage, pruning and spraying cannot produce an abundant supply for home use and a profitable margin for sale. Figs, peaches, plums, grapes, apples, pears and pecans should be as integral a part of the farm home as the house in which the family resides, and nothing less is fair to growing children."

"Other states with conditions not widely different from Mississippi have found profit in the commercial development of orchards. It may be that once these standard fruits are successfully produced in a small way throughout the state a larger development will seem advisable and prove profitable."

"Not least among the evils of one-crop farming is this total neglect of the things that make country life worth while. It may have been economically sound to purchase these commodities in the past, but present prices are such that on the average farm money is available for the purchase of only the bare necessities. How long this will continue no one knows, but certainly, in good years or bad, nothing will contribute more to economical living, family health and general pleasure than a well stocked orchard. It is sincerely to be hoped that in these troublesome times when we are forced to largely re-organize our farming system that the home orchard may be given merited recognition."

Death of Infant of

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph
Francis Favre, City.

The Angel of Death claimed the body of little Joyce Ann Favre, five-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis Favre, of this city residing opposite the entrance of S. S. C. stadium. She was a native of Bay St. Louis and was the child of J. P. Favre and Myrtle Fay, of Favre. Funeral took place Monday, at Cedar Rest Cemetery, many beautiful flowers marking the little freshly-made mound.

Think This Over.

There is this to be said for newspaper advertising: It doesn't shout at you when you are trying to concentrate on something else, it doesn't obscure the view and mar the landscape, it doesn't interrupt your enjoyment of a good grand opera program, it doesn't clutter up your mail and your waste basket, it doesn't make you turn to page 37 and then shuffle through 18 more pages to finish your story, it doesn't clutter up your front yard or obtrude itself onto the seat of your motor car on Saturday afternoons. It is like a well-trained servant—never intruding or making itself obnoxious, but always quietly at hand ready to give service when called upon.—Bangor (Mich.) Advance.

MISS. SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS INCOME LAW ON OUTSIDE EARNINGS

Highest Tribunal in State Rules Individuals Must Pay State Tax on Money Earned Outside of Mississippi.

The Mississippi Supreme court Monday of this week upheld the constitutionality of the State law imposing income tax upon an individual resident whether his income was derived from within or without the state.

The decision was en banc, but two of the six justices dissented and in a lengthy and sharp opinion said that the tax was discriminatory in that domestic corporations were exempt under the law from tax on income derived beyond the state.

Associate Justices Griffith of Gulfport and McGowan of Water Valley submitted the minority opinion. Chief Justice George Sydney Smith held the majority in upholding the disputed portion of the Mississippi Tax Law which requires an individual resident to pay income tax regardless of the place his income is made, but specifically excludes from the tax on a domestic corporation all income derived beyond the state.

The test case was that of S. B. Lawrence, of Jackson vs. the Mississippi Tax Commission, and the decision makes Lawrence, a road contractor liable to the state for income tax. Lawrence, under contract with the Tennessee highway department and working in that state in 1929, made enough money so that the amount due was $2,888.

Two Other Cases.

Two cases, one from the circuit and one from the chancery court of Harrison county were affirmed according to the list of decisions handed down from the state supreme court at Jackson.

The circuit court case was that of Howard E. Burkin, Gulfport taxicab driver against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company in which a demurrer of the railroad company to Burkin's claim for damages growing out of an injury was sustained. The appeal was on the action of the court in sustaining the demurrer. Burkin claimed that he was knocked down and injured by a passenger running to catch a train.

The chancery court case affirmed by the supreme court was that of The Valley Securities Company against J. H. Beaman and the Great Southern Land Company involving a decree in favor of the former for $20,863.

It was an outgrowth of a suit following a foreclosure sale of the Hotel Hattiesburg. The judgment of the lower court was affirmed on direct appeal and reserved on cross appeal and a judgment entered by the supreme court in the case.

Last Thursday the stork paid its sixth visit at their happy home in Carroll Avenue and brought added sunshine and blessedness. The new arrival is known as John Osoinach II, after his well-known grandfather. Both mother and child are doing exceptionally well and Mr. and Mrs. Osoinach have the best wishes and congratulations of many friends of the community.

Closed Bank Must Take Deposits to Pay
Up Obligations

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 6.—Deposits in ruling of Federal Judge Edwin R. Holmes, be used to offset any obligation the depositor has with the bank.

Judge Holmes' decision forced J. R. Stevens, receiver for the First National Bank of Jackson to cancel a $750 note given by A. J. Haliwan, and signed jointly by Robert Henry.

When the receiver sought to collect from Henry he asked that his tied-up deposits be used to retire the obligation. This was refused and the matter was taken to federal court. Henry showed that his deposits in the defunct First National Bank more than covered the amount of the note.

Courthouse grounds which attracted so much attention and general admiration last year with its hundreds of pearly plants, will bloom this coming season with an equal number of stock plants, in various colors, this particular and unusually attractive plant featured by Adams, nurseryman and florist of Pass Christian, who has the work of landscaping and planting annually under the immediate direction of Clerk A. G. Faye, and members of the Board of Supervisors who make this improvement and mark of beautification possible.

—From the San Antonio press we note where Mrs. E. J. Leonard, who is visiting in that city as the house guest of her aunt, Mrs. Richard Henry, and family, has been the recipient of many social attentions. On Thursday a visit and lunch at Medina Lake, Friday a formal luncheon and Saturday a bridge and the Tuesday following a bridge-breakfast. Mrs. Leonard was one of 26 delegates to go from Mississippi to the General Grand Chapter meeting held at San Antonio, recently, and which will meet again at Detroit in 1934. There were 3,700 delegates at the recent meeting. Mrs. Leonard will remain a month visiting the beautiful and enchanting city of the great Southwest.

AUTO LICENSE TAG
LAW AMENDED BY LATE LEGISLATURE

Owner of Car Not In Use
May Delay Purchase of Tag
By Paying 25 Per Cent
Damages.

Since the extraordinary session of the Mississippi Legislature made an amendment to the automobile license tag laws relative to the time for purchase of tags, Sheriff Joseph W. Havens of Harrison County has obtained an opinion from the state attorney general's office interpreting the license tag act as amended which doubtless will be of interest to automobile owners.

As will be seen from a reading of the amendment which is given here with no change was made in the requirement for purchase of tags during the month of December by persons who use their cars on the roads, streets, and highways.

The amendment provides that persons who are not using their cars on the roads, streets, and highways, and who are not using them for business purposes, may delay the purchase of the license tag until the owner decides to begin the use of his car.

Following is a reproduction of the opinion from the attorney general's office which is self explanatory:

Opinion
I advise that, Section 5605, Code of 1930, was amended by House Bill No. 103, enacted by the extra session of the Legislature of 1931. This amendment adds to the end of said section the following:

"However, where the owner of a motor vehicle does not operate the same on the streets, roads or public highways of this state between the first day of January of any year and the date he secures a license, he shall pay only the proportionate part of such tax plus 25 per cent damages of the remainder of the calendar year beginning with the first day of the month within which he secures said license as above calculated. If said fee is not paid prior to the date said motor vehicle is operated on the streets, roads and public highways of this state, the same tax, fee, penalty and damages shall be collected for the full year as in the case of failure to pay during the month of December."

Under the provision of said section 5605, as amended by said House Bill No. 103, persons who own motor vehicles are required to pay the license fee in December of each year and said license must be paid in December of this year or they must be paid in 1931 prior to the use of such motor vehicle on the public roads and highways of the state.

If the tax is not paid during December but is paid before the motor vehicle is used, then the tax is the proportionate part of the annual tax plus twenty-five per cent penalty.

To illustrate the tax levied by this section: If a person who owns a car in December pays the tax thereon in January, he will pay the usual tax. If he pays the tax in January then he would pay the amount of tax due for one year plus a penalty of twenty-five per cent thereof.

If he does not use the car in January and before he uses it in February applies for a license, he would pay 11-12 of the amount of the tax for one year plus a penalty of twenty-five per cent on the amount paid. The same rule would apply in reference to the other months, that is, the proportionate part of tax for one year plus 25 per cent on the amount paid.

If a person who owns a car in December does not pay the tax in December and uses the car in 1932 before he does obtain a license, then he would pay the tax for one year and a penalty of 25 per cent thereon.

FOOTBALL Fans saw a riot of offense in the Yale-Dartmouth game, a spectacular free-scoring contest, that bewildered 35,000 spectators. It began as a field day for Abbie Booth, who turned in his greatest performance since the Army game of 1929. The little blue captain scored three touchdowns, one a 94-yard return of the kick-off, a dazzling broken-field run of 54 yards and a completed pass of 22 yards. In short, after Dartmouth had scored a field goal, Booth took the kick-off for his 94-yard run. A minute later, he intercepted a Dartmouth pass, threw one that netted 27 yards and caught another and scampered to a touchdown.

Booth was in almost every play, and, a few minutes later, he went off his own right end, cut back and traveled 54 yards, for his third score. Then he drop-kicked the extra point and ran off the field to a tremendous ovation.

Dartmouth, on the small end of a 19-3 score, seemed hopelessly out of the running as the Yale coach sent in a substitute team. However, the first play was a long pass to McCall, who raced by the Yale defense for 50 yards. Booth took the kick-off, then on it was apparent that the Dartmouth team was dangerous and that the Eli's were weakening. The half ended 26-10 in favor of Yale and when Yale added another touchdown at the beginning of the second half, the Green's chances seemed hopeless.

However, an astonishing uprising occurred, inaugurated by McCall's 92-yard run back of the kick-off. A blocked punt led to another touchdown by Dartmouth and Yale went into the final period with only a nine point lead.

Booth was back in the game but

Will Meet In Annual Classic on Thanksgiving Day.

Thursday, November 26, Thanksgiving Day, will be a gala day for the youngest football players at St. Stanislaus College, for on that day the second annual Fleas and Flies football game will take place.

It will run down the curtain on football for this year as far as these future gridiron stars are concerned. Last year a very large crowd witnessed the game, and those that were there remember the trick plays, the snipers, double-reverse, etc., that were made to perfection. The game will draw them back, but others will come because of so much talk around Bay St. Louis last year, made some people feel they had missed a great deal by not being there, and they won't miss it for anything this year.

Last year, Hilley Walbrecht will not be in the line up, but he will be well replaced by smaller fellows who have already become famous with the fans. Among these we will mention Louis "Cedo" Towry, a tackle not yet 50 pounds in weight who likes to break through an opponent's stone-wall. Another stella player who will perform in this game is little George Hauser, an end by profession, his specialty is pulling passes out of the air. His delight is to get them from the opponent's team. Dave Glover and Garland Anderson will do all the work as far as captains are concerned.

Tuesday the initial call was made and the following gave in their names: Verges, Cruz, Glover, Stockton, Quintini, Derbes, L. Towery, Filkins, Barber, Gordon, Henchy, G. Anderson, Sheehy, Hamley, E. Smith, E. Arceneaux, E. Favre, P. Lacoste, T. Tudury, E. McGrath, S. Chason, Tucker, H. Toledo, G. Anderson, F. Fayard, J. Towery, R. R. Hauser, Martin, Lagunes, Brady, Vairin, Montz, Plemme, White, Comba, Vinges, L. Elliott, J. Ryan, A. Mazza and W. Maxwell.

This game is always played for the benefit of the Christmas Tree Fund.

MARSHAL HURT IN FALL.

City Marshal Herman Finhold of Pass Christian, suffered a fracture on the ankle Monday night while pursuing a "robber" on the L. and N. railroad track, when he fell into a cattle guard. The group had been put off a passenger train and retaliated by throwing rocks at the Pullmans, breaking a number of window glasses. Finhold was taken to the hospital at Gulfport for treatment.

unable to stem the tide. A pass, intended for Booth, was snared by McCall with one hand for another 60 yard run for a touchdown. This made the score 36-30 in favor of Yale and with full ten minutes to play, the stands were in bedlam. A little later Morton kicked a field goal from the 23rd yard mark for the tying score. The game was something of a record for teams of any where near even rating in the major leagues. Sixty-six points were scored, with many long runs, intercepted and completed passes and that almost extinct play, the field goal. Nine touchdowns and two field goals made up the jamboree which was distinctly encouraging to Dartmouth.

Thousands of Japanese fans cheered visiting American baseball players when their ship docked at Yokohama. When the Americans reached Tokyo, they were enthusiastically received by throngs on the streets, decorated in their honor. The Americans are making a short tour of Japan, Yomiuri Shimbun. The Japanese baseball players have declared that they can hold their own with American college teams, but what they will do with the big League outfit has been a matter of doubt. It is still doubtful when one looks over the roster of the American squad: Gehrig, Grove, Frisch, Cockrane, Simmons, O'Doul, Kamm, Maraville, Ruel, French, et al.

The popularity of the game in Japan is evidenced by the fact that the special train carrying the ball tossers was met at the station by the Mayor of Tokyo and that as the party proceeded in open cars along the principal downtown streets of the Japanese capital, the players were engulfed in the mob of Japanese eager to shake their hands.

Jack Sharkey, only mildly interested in a bout with Tommy Loughran, is anxious to meet Jack Dempsey any time, any place and on any terms. The Boston Gob, now considered the most dangerous threat against Max Schmeling, has never forgotten the seven-round knockout he suffered at the hands of the Massachusetts Mauler four years ago, during which he maintains he was fouled. The sting of this defeat still rankles in the Charley bosom and he wants a chance to knock out the former title holder.

WORK AND PLAY
AT S. J. A.

TUESDAY LAST—A DAY OF THRILLS.

Thrill No. 1

My what an exciting day was Tuesday, November 3 at S. J. A. At 9 o'clock the Juniors received the joyful tidings that their breakers had arrived. How welcome was this news. I'll let you surmise. It is enough to say that the Juniors had been impatiently awaiting the arrival of these sweaters for four long weeks. The sweaters were white with a large blue "J" which has a "55" interwoven in it. I am sure when you see them, you will agree with me that they are quite stunning indeed.

Thrill No. 2

Oh! I can't believe it! "Is it really true?" You wouldn't fool me! Such were the exclamations that echoed through the First Room a few minutes after the Juniors' excitement had somewhat abated. Why all this "uproar" again? Well I'll tell you the Seniors rings had arrived. The rings are very pretty! They are solid gold with the escutcheon of S. J. A. upon them. Each member of class '32 takes great pride in sporting her class emblem and feels that now indeed there is nothing lacking to her title of "Senior."

Thrill No. 3

After all this the girls though they had had enough pleasant surprises for one day; but little did they dream what was in store for them. At ten fifteen when the first room was just about getting back to normal who should walk into the class room but "Carrie Koenen." Carrie had been very ill for two months, and the joy and gladness experienced by the pupils of the first room when learned that they were to have Carrie back as a classmate is difficult to describe.

ARMISTICE DAY
A RETROSPECT.

Thirteen years ago yesterday the Armistice was signed. In 1914 the "call to arms" had come. Europe was involved in a war that took in all the great nations of the world and shook the political foundations of new born democracies and old kingdoms. Our own United States remained neutral as long as she could, but finally in 1917 came the American "call to arms" and the U. S. could no longer remain inactive.

American youths and men in the prime of life and at the height of success, volunteered to go "over there." "Over here" before the eyes of wife and friends it seemed so easy to say "I am going over to fight for my country," and the uniforms were becoming to the clean-cut American lads. It was great to feel that the responsibility of the survival of half of Europe and the glory of America depended upon you, and marching down the street to the music of inspiring military marches certainly gave you a warm glowing feeling of heroism.

Somehow things weren't the same after you got "over there." There was very little music and no one to bolster up your courage with praise. However no one complained, after all this war was a very serious business and the nearer the front you drew the more clearly you realized just how serious it was.

Everyone knows how terrible that war was. It is hard to rehearse its grim horrors and sufferings. The sooner we forget that chapter the better—but what we cannot and must never efface from our minds is the "memory" of the "gallant" lads, many of whom lie in unknown graves, "over there," who gave their lives generously, freely, to make the world peaceful once more.

SODALITY NEWS.

The Children of Mary held their usual weekly meeting last Thursday. Following a request which had been made at a former meeting, each of the four committees, had elected a chairman during the week. The reports of each committee were read at Thursday's meeting. The chairman of the various committees are as follows: Catherine Scaffide for the Eucharistic committee; Elise Lizana for the Mission Committee; Alice Peeney for our Lady's Committee and Catherine Scaffide for the Publicity Committee.

It was announced at this meeting that a "Question Box" would be installed beneath the bulletin board. The publicity committee will be in charge of this question box. The chairman of the committee informed the girls that these boxes had been put in the box by the committee no later than Tuesday of each week, if they expected to have them answered at the following meeting.

It was also moved that the Sodality change its communion day from the second Sunday to the second Friday of each month. After a heated debate about the respective merits and demerits of the change the motion was finally passed and is to be submitted to the Spiritual Director of the Sodality for approval. Catherine Scaffide read a pamphlet on the "Infinite Value of the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass." Each Sodalist was presented with a copy of this pamphlet, a short prayer was recited and the meeting adjourned.
